PP2

RESTRICTIONS and RESTRAINTS: Shall apply equally to each parent. That these restrictions and restraints are provided does not necessarily mean that the Court has made any findings about either parent that demand the use of these restrictions and restraints; however, the Court does have the authority to issue orders that promote the welfare and best interest of a child. Furthermore, if neither parent engages in conduct addressed in these restrictions and restraints, then the parents will run afoul of them.

DISCUSSION OF LITIGATION: There shall be no discussion of this matter by either party with the minor child.

CONFRONTATIONS: There shall be no physical or verbal confrontation involving the parents in the actual or constructive presence of the child.

ALCOHOL CONSUMPTION AND DRUG USE: The parents shall not excessively consume or be under the influence of alcohol to the degree of impairment while the child is with either of them, and the parents shall not allow the child to be in the presence of any person who does so. This restraint applies to the use of any drugs. Neither parent shall have in his or her actual or constructive possession any illegal drugs.

PROFANITY AND DEROGATORY COMMENTS: The parents shall not use profane or vulgar language in the presence of the child, and they shall not allow the child to remain in the presence of any person who does so. The parents shall not say or make derogatory comments about each other in the presence of the child, and they shall not allow the child to be in the presence of any person who does so. The parents shall not instruct the child to disobey the other parent.

 PARAMOURS AND OVERNIGHT GUESTS: The parents shall not have the minor child in the presence of anyone of the opposite sex overnight with whom they are not related.

ENVIRONMENT: The parents shall always have the child in a safe and moral environment. The parents shall never place the child in an environment where any illegal activities are occurring regardless of the lack of participation of either parent.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE: The parent who is responsible for having the child at school in a timely manner shall not fail to do so.

EMERGENCY CANCELLATION: Except in cases of life and death emergencies each parent shall notify the other parent 24 hours in advance of any changes to the forgoing schedule.

TELEPHONE CONTACT: Both parents shall have reasonable telephone contact with child when child is with the other parent and such communication shall be private.

IMPORTANT EVENTS: Each parent shall inform the other of any important events related to, but not limited to, school, religious or athletic/music/dance events, and both parents may attend such events separately. However, neither parent shall schedule any event to deliberately interfere with the other parent's time with the child.

ACCESS TO RECORDS: Both parents shall have full and complete access to all of the child's records including, but not limited to, medical, school, day-care, athletic, and counseling records. Neither parent shall "block" the efforts of the other parent to gain access to these records.

MEDICAL EMERGENCIES: Each parent shall have the authority to seek and secure emergency medical care of the child. Each parent shall promptly notify the other parent of any medical emergency.

EXCHANGE OF TELEPHONE NUMBERS, RESPECTIVE ADDRESSES AND EMAIL ADDRESSES: The parents shall exchange all telephone numbers, to include all cellular telephone numbers, and email addresses and full and part-time work and residential addresses. This shall constitute a continuing duty. The parents shall promptly return calls and messages related to the child's welfare.

VACATIONS OF EITHER PARENT WITH CHILD: If either parent wishes to take the child on a vacation of more than one day, to include overnight, that parent shall inform the other parent of the destination or location of that vacation.

CHILD SUPPORT AND VISITATION: There is no connection between the payment of child support and visitation. The failure to pay child support does not allow the other parent to terminate visitation; the termination of visitation does not allow the other parent to terminate child support.

PP2

CARETAKERS OR BABYSITTERS: The parent who places the child in the care of a caretaker or babysitter shall insure that such person is capable of caring for the child.

PORNOGRAPHY: Neither parent shall allow the child to see or be exposed to any pornography by any means or method to include the use of the internet.

INTERROGATION OF CHILD: The parties shall not question the child about the other parent, and neither parent shall allow any other person to do so.

CHILD AS MESSENGER AND CHILD SUPPORT CARRIER: The parents shall not use the child as a messenger nor shall they use the child to act as a courier for the payment of child support or any bills and expenses related to the child.

USE OF "MOTHER" AND "FATHER" LABELS: The parents shall not, by design or default, allow or direct any person not the parent of the child to instruct the child to call her or him "mom" or "dad" or "mommy/momma" or "daddy" or "mother" or "father."

remarks in the presence of the child (ren). Both parties shall respect the other parent's right to have a frequent, ongoing and substantial relationship with the child (ren). Neither parent shall do nor say anything, nor shall they allow any third party to say or do anything that would alienate the child (ren) from the affections of the other parent. Additionally, each parent is to keep the other parent informed of his or her present address and phone number.

Each parent shall, at all times respect the privacy of the other parent. Neither parent shall attempt to go to the other parent's home without the express permission of the other parent. Additionally, neither parent shall telephone the other party unless the purpose and nature of such call is directly related to the health, education and general welfare of the child (ren). Peaceful contacts related to visitation schedules and transportation arrangements shall be allowed.

13. Moving with the Children (Relocation)

If the person with whom the children are scheduled to reside a majority of their time plans to move (relocating person), s/he must notify every person who has court-ordered time with the children.

Move to a different school district

If the move is to a different school district, the relocating person must complete the form Notice of Intent to Move with Children (FL Relocate 701) and deliver it at least 60 days before the intended move.

Exceptions:

- If the relocating person could not reasonably have known enough information to complete the form in time to give 60 days' notice, s/he must give notice within 5 days after learning the information.
- If the relocating person is relocating to a domestic violence shelter or moving to avoid a clear, immediate and unreasonable risk to health or safety, notice may be delayed 21 days.
- If information is protected under a court order or the address confidentiality program, it may be withheld from the notice.
- A relocating person who believes that giving notice would put her/himself or a child at unreasonable risk of harm, may ask the court for permission to leave things out of the notice or to be allowed to move without giving notice. Use form Motion to Limit Notice of Intent to Move with Children (Ex Parte) (FL Relocate 702).

The Notice of Intent to Move with Children can be delivered by having someone personally serve the other party or by any form of mail that requires a return receipt.

If the relocating person wants to change the Parenting Plan because of the move, s/he must deliver a proposed Parenting Plan together with the Notice.

Move within the same school district

If the move is within the same school district, the relocating person still has to let the other parent know. However, the notice does not have to be served personally or by mail with a return receipt. Notice to the other party can be made in any reasonable way. No specific form is required.

Warning! If you do not notify...

A relocating person who does not give the required notice may be found in contempt of court. If that happens the court can impose sanctions. Sanctions can include requiring the relocating person to bring the children back if the move has already happened, and ordering the relocating person to pay the other side's costs and lawyer's fees.

Right to object

A person who has court-ordered time with the children can object to a move to a different school district and/or to the relocating person's proposed Parenting Plan. If the move is within the same school district, the other party doesn't have the right to object to the move, but s/he may ask to change the Parenting Plan if there are adequate reasons under the modification law (RCW 26.09.260).

An objection is made by filing the Objection about Moving with Children and Petition about Changing a Parenting/Custody Order (Relocation) (form FL Relocate 721). File your Objection with the court and serve a copy on the relocating person and anyone else who has court-ordered time with the children. Service of the Objection must be by personal service or by mailing a copy to each person by any form of mail that requires a return receipt. The Objection must be filed and served no later than 30 days after the Notice of Intent to Move with Children was received.

Right to move

During the 30 days after the Notice was served, the relocating person may not move to a different school district with the children unless s/he has a court order allowing the move.

After the 30 days, if no Objection is filed, the relocating person may move with the children without getting a court order allowing the move.

After the 30 days, if an Objection has been filed, the relocating person may move with the children pending the final hearing on the Objection unless:

- The other party gets a court order saying the children cannot move, or
- The other party has scheduled a hearing to take place no more than 15 days after the date the Objection was served on the relocating person. (However, the relocating person may ask the court for an order allowing the move even though a hearing is pending if the relocating person believes that s/he or a child is at unreasonable risk of harm.)

The court may make a different decision about the move at a final hearing on the Objection.

Parenting Plan after move

If the relocating person served a proposed Parenting Plan with the Notice, and if no Objection is filed within 30 days after the Notice was served (or if the parties agree):

- Both parties may follow that proposed plan without being held in contempt of the Parenting Plan that was in place before the move. However, the proposed plan cannot be enforced by contempt unless it has been approved by a court.
- Either party may ask the court to approve the proposed plan. Use form Ex Parte Motion for Final Order Changing Parenting Plan – No Objection to Moving with Children (FL Relocate 706).
