an uncommunicated, unilateral decision by Sirinya Surina to school authorities and respondent that she has moved residences and that the minor child, David Surina, would be attending Westwood Middle School in the Cheney school district.

Relevance to Case:

The information contained in this email is in direct violation of the existing parenting plan dated December 20, 2019 between the parties, specifically pertaining to statutes and requirements about moving out of the school district with the minor child, David Surina. This action also potentially violates Washington State law regarding parental notification and the relocation of children.

This evidence is being submitted to establish a breach of the existing parenting plan and violation of Washington State law, which may have detrimental effects on the respondent's (Aaron Surina) rights concerning familial privacy, equal protection, due process, and the overall well-being of the minor child.

Attached:

1. A true and correct copy of the email correspondence between Ms. Yahne and Sirinya Surina, dated May 30, 2023.

I too want the very best for David, his education is the most important step to a better future, and a conference to discuss a plan to help pave that path for David would be in his best interest. Yes I would like that meeting before the end of the school year to discuss how we are going to go about achieving that goal. He will be attending Westwood Middle School in Cheney next year as we moved to Cheney.

Good afternoon,

I apologize for the delay as I know we had discussed this happening sooner...
We last met in January to discuss David's progress. At that time we shared the information we had on his academic progress, his strengths, his struggles, etc. and testing to gather further information was declined. Instead, we made a plan for David to continue working in small groups with me, modifying his homework, offering office hours, and attending after school reading intervention classes.
I am writing you to inquire if you would like to meet one last time before the school year ends to discuss next steps or would you prefer me to share the modifications/interventions we have worked on this year with the teachers at Sac so they are aware of all they can do for him to be successful at the very start of the year? Launch conferences will again be the two days before school starts so there will be an opportunity right away to get a plan in place.
Let me know what you think, and if you'd like to meet I can arrange a time that will work for everyone,
Thanks, Kim
